

This is Our Goliath

The Goliath we face is not a person or a party.

It is the weight of habit—
the illusion that partisanship is the only way.

But we are David.

Unarmed, we stand not with weapons of ideology—
but with clarity, courage, and independence.

Giants fall when ordinary people see clearly,
act justly,
and refuse to bow.

We, the people, are enough.

Together, we can topple Goliath—
and reclaim a democracy that belongs to all of us.
